Why undertake joint analysis?

• Multiplying perspectives and ideas

• Working with intense, difficult or puzzling data
Why undertake joint analysis?

• Noticing what the researcher or research team cannot see: the ‘defended’ researcher

• The group as a resource for accessing affective and deep meanings within texts
References

