Building capacity for the use of participatory video in academic research

Training WORKSHOP programme

The network will be running 4 two-day training workshops on using PV in research, between now and the end of January. The workshops will be suitable as an introduction to PV techniques, or to sharpen your existing skills as a PV facilitator in a research setting. The workshops will be run by academics and PV practitioners with experience of using PV in research, and of the delivery of research training.

Places are limited, and will be allocated preferentially to network members. To sign up for a training event, please get in touch with the relevant contact person to register your interest.
